We are CATALYNT

We want to be your full-service supplier.

Catalynt is one of North America's largest certified woman-owned service and raw materials suppliers.

We offer custom contract manufacturing, packaging, and private labeling services, full laboratory capabilities, and a wide range of raw materials and ingredients with the added value of exclusive manufacturer relationships, industry market intel, and technical product knowledge. We do our best to anticipate disruptions in the supply chain, connecting our customers to the materials they need, even in times of crisis.
